Employer reimbursement program for COVID-19 now launched
 Employers can now apply for reimbursement of wages paid to workers who took sick leave concerning COVID-19.
 The temporary reimbursement program was effective as of June 17th and is retroactive to May 20th.

The program helps ensure sick workers could stay home for up to three days without losing any wages helping to support businesses during the pandemic.
 Amendments to the Employment Standards Act (ESA) requires that employers pay sick workers their regular wages. Employers can apply for up to $200 per day for a maximum of three days for each worker sick. Employers that do not currently provide paid sick leave benefits are also eligible to apply.

The reimbursement program is accessible to businesses where workers need to stay home because they have been confirmed to have COVID-19, are waiting for COVID-19 test results, need to self-isolate or monitor for symptoms, or have been directed to stay home by their employer due to exposure or risk of exposure.

WorkSafeBC is administering the program with funding from the government. WorkSafeBC's IT systems and employer information have set up a new process to deliver the reimbursement—which expires on December 31, 2021.

To apply for this reimbursement, businesses and employers must be registered for WorkSafeBC compensation coverage and have signed up for online services. A short online form is a requirement. Once submitted, the application and payment transfer can take up to 10 business days.

More information can be found on the Province's website.

Kiskatinaw Campground Closed due to Landslide

The Kiskatinaw Campground and Provincial Park is closed until further notice due to landslide risk.

As the park is below the Kiskatinaw Curved Bridge, which is closed due to landsliding affecting bridge stability - it made sense to close the campground from the public as well.

Earlier this month the Old Kiskatinaw Bridge was closed to vehicle traffic - on the morning of June 4.

Engineering staff closed the bridge and it will remain closed until the material stops moving and the bridge can be assessed. Geotechnical and structural engineers, as well as operational staff are on site assessing the situation.

The Ministry of Transportation says a landslide has occurred under the old wooden bridge, affecting one of the piers. Engineering staff closed the bridge June 3 and it will remain closed until the material stops moving and the bridge can be assessed.

The wooden bridge was built in the early 1940s during construction of the Alaska Highway. A new modern bridge was built upstream over the Kiskatinaw River in the 1970s, when the highway was rerouted.

More Direct Flights for locals

Central Mountain Air is adding flights out of Fort St. John to Edmonton three times weekly as of June 28.

As pandemic restrictions ease in B.C. and Alberta, the airline said Tuesday that it's poised for a "major increase" to its network of regional routes.

On Monday, June 28 non-stop service will begin or resume from Edmonton to Grande Prairie, High Level, and Fort St John. Frequency of flights will also increase to Prince George with connections to Terrace and Fort Nelson, CMA stated in a release.

"CMA is pleased to expand on its existing four times weekly onestop connections with these flights."

CMA says it will be operating more than 120 flights per week with its expanded schedule, about 50% of its pre-pandemic totals, and providing a "critical baseline" to ensure proper access to rural and remote communities.

"With travel demand beginning to recover and mainline carriers looking at the regional part of their models differently than pre-COVID, our strategy has been to think creatively about how to use our fleet to add capacity back in, generate revenue, and get more people back to work," said CMA CEO Bob Cummings in a statement.

"Aggressively connecting Edmonton with non-stop air links to key northern cities, and via Prince George to more B.C. cities, is a bold move by CMA, as the scheduled air carrier landscape re-forms in different ways."

Hi Sky Enterprises Ltd from Chetwynd bought both Carter Bergen's grand champion steer 'Jeff' (for $6.75 a pound!) and Brooke Rainey's steer 'Bruno' (for $8.30 a pound!). Surerus Murphy from Chetwynd bought both Jake Rainey's steer 'Boots' (for $5.00 a pound!) and Casey Bergen's steer 'Dudley' (for $7.90 a pound!). Other buyers from Dawson included: Pro Well Contracting, Costal Gas Link, & Trojan Safety Services from Fort St. John.

While the Auction Mart is unsure of whether the sale broke any records, one thing is sure: the sale was one that surpassed all expectations. "I never would have even dreamed of getting that much on my steer!" One Chetwynd member raved. "All the hard work and effort I put in [to my steer] was definitely worth it, both with the money I made and all the new things that I've learned!"

Before the sale, members competed in a series of Achievement Day Classes. In the junior category, Brooke Rainey won 1st and Brooke-Lynn Bueckert won 2nd in both Showmanship and Grooming. Over in Senior division, Casey Bergen won 1st and Carter Bergen won 2nd in Grooming and then switched placings in Senior Showmanship. For the club's steer class, Grand Champion went to Carter Bergen's steer 'Jeff' and Reserve Champion went to Payton Bueckert's steer 'Jarvis'. In the Champion Showmanship class, Carter Bergen received Grand Champion and Casey Bergen received Reserve Champion. In the Champion Grooming category, Grand Champion went to Casey Bergen, while Carter Bergen received Reserve Champion. In the cow/calf class, winners were Brooke-Lynn Bueckert in 1st place and Payden Bueckert in 2nd place.

Special thanks to Keegan Scorgie for judging the show and spending extra time mentoring the members. As well, thanks to Courtenay Wallace for being ringwoman for the day and for her expertise and help with members before the show. As the 4-H members finish off the 2020-2021 4-H year, they avidly look forward to next year. After all, there is always more to be learned!

Dale (Kenneth) Willard

June 30, 1934- June 18, 2021

(Kenneth) Dale Willard of Chetwynd, B.C. passed away on June 18, 2021, at the age of 86 in Chetwynd and District Hospital

Dale was born in Pouce Coupe, B.C. on June 30, 1934, to James and Bessie Willard. He was the 7th of 13 children. Dale's early childhood was spent in Tupper and Rio Grande area. Dale and his sister Maxine were inseparable as children and remained that way through their adult lives. They could be heard laughing as they schemed their latest antics. They moved to the Beaverlodge area where Dale continued his schooling.

Dale started working in a meat market at the age of 16. He tried other jobs but returned to a meat market before he was married. He spent most of his working life in that profession. He ran the Chetwynd IGA meat department from 1970 to 1989. One of their highlights was winning a trip to Hawaii in 1973. Dale and Joan ran a meat shop at their home for 10 more years.

Dale enjoyed base ball and shared his love of the game and knowledge with kids for many years. Dale and Joan were active in the square dance club enjoying many years of dancing and travelling with the club. Dale joined the Lions club in Chetwynd where he held many different positions until the club folded in 2009.

Dale married (Phylis) Joan Unger June 5, 1957 in Wembley, AB. Dale and Joan started their life together in Grand Prairie until 1961. They moved to Fort Nelson where Dale worked for the dairy company. They moved back to Grand Prairie where Dale worked for the meat packers. They moved to Hythe where they ran their own meat department. This was the start of a long history of Dale and Joan working side by side at work and at home. After 2 years, they moved to Chetwynd where they lived until Dale's death. They made friends in all of these places and treasured these. Many of these friends remained friends for life. Ray and Donna Sauverwald became lifelong friends in 1967.

Dale enjoyed doing cookouts and barbeques. He quickly became known for his skills (especially steaks) and was often found in the middle of preparing meals at family reunions and community organization functions. Many of the family remember him cooking for all of them at family gatherings.

Dale was known for his ready smile and sense of humour. It served him well throughout his life. He was especially good in getting along with medical staff when his health started to deteriorate.

Dale is survived by his wife Joan Willard; his children Brenda (Tom) Janzen of Carstairs, AB, Rick (Joanne) Willard of Calgary, AB, Kelly (Sandi) Willard of Chetwynd, BC, Shannon (Rob) Jarvis of Chetwynd, and Erin Willard of Chetwynd, BC; 13 grandchildren; 24 great grandchildren; siblings Bud (Deana) Willard of Sangudo, AB, and Karen Willard of Osoyoos as well as many nieces, nephews, extended family and friends.

Dale was predeceased by his parents, James and Bessie and his siblings, Kozey, Jean, Gerald, Merton, Bonnie, Gwen, Maxine, Rhoda, George and "little" Jim.

Dale had chosen to be cremated and A Celebration Of Dales Life will be held at a later date. Arrangements were entrusted to Reynars Funeral Home & Crematorium. Please call Erin Willard for more information.

Very Respectfully,
Reynars Funeral Home

Campfire starting hacks

Use hand sanitizer to start a germ-free fire in a pinch

You know those trick birthday candles that everyone hates? Turns out, they make great weatherproof matches/fire starters. Now mother nature can hate them too!

You can also bring some lint with you as a lightweight fire-starter. Unless you're saving that lint for something really important
