ATTEMPTED BREAK-IN AT LONESTAR SPORTING GOODS

The Chetwynd RCMP are investigating an attempted break-in at Lonestar Sports that happened sometime Friday evening the 29th of January.

According to Lonestar's owner Carl Rose, the thieves used a brick to smash the front door, and the back door was kicked in, but were ultimately unsuccessful in their efforts. Police attended and fingerprints were taken at the scene, along with bricks tied with a cord which were found nearby.

Anyone with information is encouraged to contact the Chetwynd RCMP Detachment (250-788-9221), or Crimestoppers at 1-800-222-TIPS.

MAN FOUND DEAD IN HOME AFTER CHARLIE LAKE STANDOFF

The Independent Investigations Office (IIO) of British Columbia has been called in after officers of the RCMP's North District Emergency Response Team found a man dead inside a Charlie Lake residence Sunday January 31st.

For almost 12 hours, Charlie Lake RCMP were involved in a standoff at the site of the home, when they were unable to contact the man inside.

The officers responded on Sunday afternoon, after receiving a domestic disturbance call from a woman who had escaped the home. The standoff began when she reported that a man and their two year old son were still trapped in the house.

According to officer reports, the child is unharmed and safe at this time.

IIOBC will be investigating to determine if the injuries the man received are connected to police action.

JOB POSTING

Position: Director of Operations

Saulteau First Nations (SFN) is a Treaty 8 community located in the Northeastern part of British Columbia. The SFN agreed in 1914 to adhesion to Treaty 8 and is part of the Treaty 8 Tribal Association, consisting of eight First Nations. The main reserve is located 15 minutes from Chetwynd, B.C. on Moberly Lake.

SFN has an opportunity for a full-time Director of Operations to join their professional team.

Do you possess the requisite educational qualifications and professional experience to lead a First Nations community on its path to be the "Best Governed Nation"; one that is proud, culturally strong and self-sufficient? This is the opportunity to work with a visionary Chief and Council, professional team and vibrant community towards being stewards of the land that ensures the best sustainable practices are followed in order to balance economic activities with respect for traditional culture. As the Director of Operations, you will report directly to the Chief and Council and be responsible for the successful leadership and management of the organization in accordance with the vision, strategic plan and values of SFN. Specifically, you will be responsible for ensuring all operations are conducted respectfully and responsibly and decisions and actions meet applicable legislation, funding guidelines and policies.

Accountabilities:

Communicate and promote, internally and externally, the vision, values and priorities of SFN as a whole;
Implement the SFN comprehensive community plan;
Implement, systems and procedures, along with regular evaluation, to achieve program quality and organizational stability;
Forecast and communicate financial and planning needs to ensure that strategic goals are met;

CHETWYND TO REPLACE POPLARS LINING HART HIGHWAY

An article in the Alaska Highway News is providing some insight to the loss of some of Chetwynd's poplar trees.

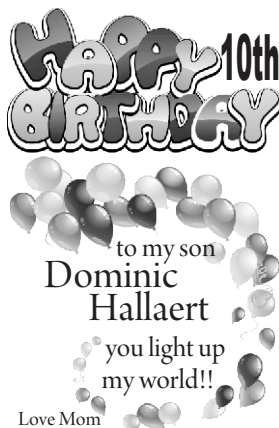

According to the district, the trees have reached the end of their lifespan and are beginning to die off.

Chetwynd's director of engineering and public works Paul Gordon says a plan to replace them is underway. The district's Boulevard Walkway beautification plan aims to improve the town's walking trails by adding new lighting, shrubs, and paving new sections to complete the loop, as well as replacing the poplars that line Highway 97 through the town.

The dying trees will soon be replaced by new, full-grown poplars which cost around $400 per tree. The first phase of the plan would see Chetwynd plant 80 of the new trees, for a total cost of about $32,000.

Chetwynd isn't the only town in the Peace that has had to deal with replacing dying poplar trees; Dawson Creek had naturally occurring bacteria kill many of that city's street poplars in the summer of 2014.

DISTRICT OF CHETWYND NOTICE OF REVITALIZATION TAX EXEMPTION BYLAW AMENDMENT

CHETWYND

Please take note that pursuant to Section 226(4) of the Community Charter, the District of Chetwynd Council intends to consider adopting an amendment to District of Chetwynd Revitalization Tax Exemption Bylaw No. 977, 2012 at its Regular Council Meeting on February 15, 2016.

The proposed District of Chetwynd Revitalization Tax Exemption Amendment Bylaw No. 1037, 2016 provides a pre-application and memorandum of understanding for a Revitalization Tax Exemption, which will permit Council to consider tax exemption applications prior to commencement of construction of the project.

Any person wishing to express opposition to proposed District of Chetwynd Revitalization Tax Exemption Amendment Bylaw No. 1037, 2016 is requested to do so in writing to:

Attention Corporate Officer, District of Chetwynd, PO Box 357, Chetwynd, BC V0C 1J0; or Email: d-chet@gochetwynd.com; or Fax: (250) 401-4101; or by dropping it off in person at the District Office at 5400 Hospital Road; or by addressing Council during the opportunity for public input respecting proposed District of Chetwynd Revitalization Tax Exemption Amendment Bylaw No. 1037, 2016 at the Council Meeting on February 15, 2016, at 4:30 p.m. in Council Chambers at 5400 Hospital Road.

KAREN STEWART

was rushed to the ER with a possible heart attack. She was transferred to Vancouver, where Drs. are still trying to figure out 100% what's going on.

Stroke and heart attack are top of the list right now. Tom and Travis are with her, which means extra costs. This is going to help them stay there and give Karen the support she needs. They are a family that does so much for others in the community, especially at Christmas with the hamper foundation.

Every little bit helps. If you wish to donate, please go to GOFUNDME on Facebook.

Talking Frog

An engineer was crossing a road one day when a frog called out to him and said, "Kiss me and I'll turn into a gorgeous woman."

He scooped up the frog and put it in his lab coat pocket.

The frog spoke again and said, "If you kiss me and turn me into a gorgeous woman, I'll be yours alone for a whole month."

The engineer lifted the frog out of his lab coat pocket, said nothing, and carefully put it back in his pocket.

The frog then cried out, "Please kiss me and turn me back into a woman! I'll be all yours and wait on you hand and foot!"

Once again the engineer opened his pocket, gently pulled out the frog, smiled, and carefully put it back.

Finally, the frog asked, "What are you doing? I'm really a gorgeous woman. Why don't you kiss me?"

The engineer said, "Look, I'm an engineer. I don't have time for a girlfriend. But a talking frog, now that's cool."

NEW NURSE PRACTITIONERS INCREASE ACCESS TO PRIMARY CARE IN NORTHERN B.C.

Strong partnerships between Northern Health, Ministry of Health, First Nations Health Authority, municipal governments and communities across northern B.C. have led to the recruitment of seven new nurse practitioners to the Northern Health region, increasing access to primary care for residents.

"Nurse practitioners work in both independent and collaborative practice roles in B.C., providing valuable support to health care services," said Health Minister Terry Lake. "The addition of seven nurse practitioners to communities throughout northern B.C. complements existing health care services and helps improve access for residents."

· Kristan Ellis-MacDonald is a recent grad of Athabasca University and has moved from Halifax, Nova Scotia to practice in Chetwynd.

· Michael Tantongco recently completed his nurse practitioner studies at the University of Victoria and has brought his background in pediatric oncology to Fort St. John.

· Virginia Davis recently completed her master's program through University of Northern British Columbia and has moved back to Fort St. John to work as a nurse practitioner.

· Lisa Creelman worked as a registered nurse for nine years prior to completing her master of science in nursing from the University of Northern British Columbia and moving from Chilliwack to Mackenzie to work as a nurse practitioner.

"There were no jobs for nurse practitioners available in the Maritimes when I was looking, so I feel very fortunate to join Northern Health as a nurse practitioner at the Chetwynd Primary Care Clinic," said Kristan Ellis-MacDonald. "I'm excited to live in Chetwynd as I had been in northern B.C. before and I always had a draw to come back out here because I found the people very nice, the community that I was in was great, and the environment is beautiful."

The Nurse Practitioner for British Columbia program introduced by the Ministry of Health has played an important role in assisting with the recruitment of seven new Nurse Practitioner positions to communities throughout northern B.C.

"Nurse practitioners are valuable members of the health care team that have been serving northern B.C. for over a decade," said Helen Bourque, lead of nurse practitioners at Northern Health. "The additional nurse practitioners joining northern communities will help us to further enhance primary care resources and delivery of service to the public."

Nurse practitioners are registered nurses with a graduate level nursing degree in advanced practice. Legislation that enables them to work in British Columbia was passed in 2005. All 21 full-time, four part-time and five casual nurse practitioners who currently work in the health authority provide primary care.

"The recruitment of additional nurse practitioners in the North will enhance primary care for First Nations people," said Becky Palmer, chief nursing officer with the First Nations Health Authority. "Nurse practitioners offer a scope of practice that make them an extremely valued asset for rural and remote First Nations communities, as well as citizens accessing services in the urban setting. We have heard from our clinicians and other partners working in First Nations communities, that nurse practitioners are an important contributor to enhancing care for First Nations."

Nurse practitioners can serve as a primary health care provider and refer patients to physicians and specialists when appropriate. They are qualified to see patients for acute issues like a cold or injury, follow patients with chronic health issues like diabetes or high blood pressure, provide prenatal care, do check-ups and physical exams, and prescribe medications.

DAWSON CREEK & CHETWYND JOIN BC VENUES FOR #PURPLE4PEDAW

The Province of British Columbia has proclaimed February 1-7, 2016 as Eating Disorder Awareness Week. The Provincial Eating Disorders Awareness (PEDAW) campaign has a number of awareness opportunities for the public including #Purple4PEDAW, free wristbands and the chance to win prizes in an online scavenger hunt.

BC landmarks will be turning their lights #Purple4PEDAW on February 5th in a day designed to bring awareness to eating disorders. Members of the public are invited to wear purple, take photos of themselves and of any BC landmarks and share on the campaign's Facebook bit.ly/Purple4PEDAW2016 and Twitter (@loveourbodies) pages. Some venues, including Dawson Creek's Calvin Kruk Centre for the Arts, 10401 – 10 Street, and the Chetwynd & District Rec Centre, 4552 North Access Road, will be #Purple4PEDAW for the duration of Eating Disorder Awareness Week. To access the full list of venues and dates for participation, visit <http://bit.ly/Venues2016>.

The campaign has other awareness opportunities accessible to the public across the Province including The Hunt to Love our Bodies, Love Ourselves, an online photo-based scavenger hunt using a free app called GooseChase. The winner for the contest will win an iPad Mini donated by Family Services of the North Shore. Random draw prizes include a $100.00 Gift Certificate towards The Source courtesy of Bell Let's Talk, a $50.00 Gift Certificate towards Best Buy and an Inspirational Necklace from Wonderkath Etsy Shop. Details about the contest can be found at <http://bit.ly/PEDAW2016Hunt>.

BC residents are also encouraged to order a free Love Our Bodies, Love Ourselves wristband. The wristbands not only are a symbol of acceptance for oneself, but are also a symbol of support for those that struggle with an eating disorder: http://bit.ly/PEDAW\_Wristband

For more information, email pedaw@familyservices.bc.ca, or visit www.jessieslegacy.com.

If you or someone you know is dealing with an eating disorder, a treatment finder is available from the Kelty Eating Disorders Microsite: <http://keltyeatingdisorders.ca/maps>

The Provincial Eating Disorders Awareness (PEDAW) campaign is a BC Province wide effort to raise awareness around prevention and early intervention of eating disorders as well as media literacy, resiliency, building healthy body image and self-esteem. The initiative is led by Jessie's Legacy Eating Disorders Prevention Program at Family Services of the North Shore in collaboration with Kelty Mental Health Resource Centre, Looking Glass Foundation, St. Paul's Specialized Adult Eating Disorder Program, BC Children's Hospital Eating Disorders Program, Healthy Minds, Healthy Campuses and Project True. PEDAW is launched annually in February with activities and events taking place throughout the year.

HEAD-ON CRASH CLOSES ALASKA HIGHWAY IN FORT ST. JOHN

Two drivers are lucky to have escaped with only minor injuries after a head-on crash involving two pick-up trucks closed the Alaska Highway yesterday morning.

Shortly after 7:00 am Fort St John RCMP received a report of a head-on collision on the Alaska Highway near 92A street, which closed the highway in both directions for over 2 hours. According to witnesses, one of the pickups involved was driving on the wrong side of the road, although police have yet to confirm this, and it is also not known if speed or alcohol were factors in the crash.

NEW FEES HIGHLIGHT MISMANAGEMENT OF POST-SECONDARY EDUCATION

Students across British Columbia are raising alarm bells about the Ministry of Advanced Education's inability or refusal to enforce its policy on student fees. At least five institutions have proposed new fees that are now allowed under the government's Tuition Limit Policy, constituting fee increases well above the mandated two percent cap.

"The fee increases range from a couple of hundred dollars to as much as two-thousand dollars each year," said Simka Marshall, Chairperson of the Canadian Federation of Students-BC. "At many institutions it is completely unclear what these new fees are funding."

In 2005, after several years of rapidly increasing tuition fees, the BC Government adopted the Tuition Limit Policy. This policy restricts fee increases in BC's universities and colleges to the rate of inflation. Up until this year, institutions have respected the policy of the Ministry; however, it appears that this year many institutions have simply ignored the BC Government's rules.

Over the past several years, students and faculty have repeatedly raised concerns about the decreasing level of funding allocated to support BC's post-secondary institutions. This year government funding has been cut again for the third year in a row.

"Universities and colleges are now willfully ignoring government policy," said Marshall. "This is very troubling, and suggests that due to underfunding and mismanagement the government has lost the ability to oversee post-secondary education in our province."

"Our government has lost control and universities and colleges refuse to follow its policy. The people of BC need to ask themselves, what else this government is mismanaging?"

The Canadian Federation of Students-BC is composed of more than 200,000 post-secondary students from 15 universities and colleges in every region in BC. Post-secondary students in British Columbia have been represented by the Canadian Federation of Students-British Columbia and its predecessor organizations since 1966.
