Get Prepared! Storm Warning Issued For Northern BC

Residents of British Columbia's north are being warned to prepare for the next atmospheric river to hit the province. Environment Canada has issued winter storm warnings for inland sections of the North Coast, the McGregor region and Pine Pass on Highway 97, while special weather statements were issued for Haida Gwaii and coastal sections of the North Coast.

Snowfall warnings were also in place for a large swath of northern B.C., including the Prince George and Stuart-Nechako areas.

The weather system, expected to move into the region Saturday through Monday, is forecast to bring between 100 and 150 millimetres of rain to Prince Rupert, with between 30 and 90 millimetres in other coastal areas.

There is also a concern about flooding in inland areas of the north coast. Environment Canada said there is a "high likelihood" that rivers could swell due to rain and snowmelt.

The BC River Forecast Centre also issued a flood watch for the North Coast, including Haida Gwaii, Prince Rupert, Kitimat, Hartley Bay, Kemano and surrounding areas.

Good news for Abbotsford, B.C. residents as flood gates partially open, mayor says. Inland areas could see between 10 and 20 centimetres of snow. Coming in the wake of devastating floods and landslides in southwestern B.C., the alerts prompted the Ministry of Public Safety to issue a rare weather warning of its own, urging people to be prepared for all weather conditions.

In a media release asking people to "get prepared for heavy rain and strong winds," the province urged people to stay away from swollen creeks and rivers.

It advised residents to watch the weather forecast carefully, to take steps to protect their homes from flooding, to watch for falling trees and branches and to be prepared for power outages.

Motorists were also urged to slow down and drive to the conditions, and never to drive through floodwaters.

The weather system is forecast to move to the South Coast in a weakened state by Monday

Winter Parking and District Roads Information Everyone Should Know

Winter comes with snowfalls and snow removal is always a concern. When removing snow from your property it is required that the snow pile must remain on your property and not be pushed across the roads and onto district property or other private property.

The District of Chetwynd is committed to keeping all our roads safe for all citizens and therefore any vehicles parked in a manner that interferes with effective snow removal may be removed.

A full list of the District of Chetwynd Bylaws can be found on our website at www.gochetwynd.com under the heading Municipal Office/Bylaws and follow the link.

The Streets and Traffic Regulation Bylaw # 909, 2009 section 5.13:

Obstruction of Motor Vehicles
No vehicle shall be left standing or parked:

(iv) in a position that causes it to interfere with the construction, improvement, maintenance, alterations, extension, widening, marking, or repair of or snow removal from a highway.

The District of Chetwynd's Snow Clearing Policy, snow plowing will begin after 50mm of snow accumulation, roads will be plowed on a priority basis and residential streets will be plowed within 48 hours following the subsidence of the snowfall. If vehicles are parked on residential streets following a snow fall, the road will not be cleared until all vehicles have been removed and it has been deemed safe by the District. For further information regarding this or other Bylaw related questions please call Bylaw Enforcement at 250-401-4119

Chetwynd Christmas Bureau Society

Would like to thank all of those that generously donated to the success of our 2020 Christmas Hampers. This includes all the volunteers, those that donated the trucks to deliver the food, the seniors hall, businesses and individuals that donated money, gifts and food.

It is now time to put together the 2021 Christmas Hampers, which will be distributed December 17th, 18th and 19th. We would like to ask all those that are able to, join us in making it another successful year.

Thanks in advance for generous support!

Please call the Chetwynd Christmas Bureau Society at 250-401-7282 or 250-401-8464

When my niece was a student, her class of six-year-olds sang "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing" at a Christmas concert. The line "God and sinners reconciled" was a tricky one for this age group. One little boy, with a voice that completely drowned out the rest of the choir, happily belted out, "God and sinners dressed in style"

Health For Your Home

by Linda Franklin

Lisa's Flu Bomb: At first symptoms of cold or flu, my good friend Lisa says,
"Take 2 tablespoons of this Flu Bomb three times a day until symptoms disappear! If you can catch symptoms right at the very first "tickling" sign in the throat, then a single dose might be all you need, but if you wait until the infection is full blown, you may need to take it two or three times a day for a few days."

#46 Flu Bomb Recipe

Blend: ¼ cup lemon juice, 1 tablespoon raw honey, 4 large cloves garlic (peeled and sliced), ¼-½ teaspoon cayenne pepper powder, 2 heaping teaspoons crushed ginger, and 2 drops peppermint oil. Keep refrigerated

Call 250-788-3422 to discuss prices or for any questions.*

One evening I arrived home from work to find the lights out. My wife had prepared a lovely candlelit dinner and our two young sons, Garrett and Seldon, were dressed in their suits.

"Hey," I joked, "didn't we pay our hydro bill?"

A few months later, during the Christmas Eve candlelit procession, the church was packed and silent when Garrett asked, "Hey, Dad, did they not pay their hydro bill, too?"

Orion & Capella's Snow Island Adventures

The Great Santa Claus Parade

Bundled in warm clothes, the residents of Snow Island had gathered on both sides of Main Street. Everyone was happy and excited because the annual Santa Claus parade was about to start. According to local gossip, this year's event was set to be even more spectacular than usual because it was the city's 250th anniversary.

Twins Orion and Capella found the perfect spot where they could watch the parade with their parents, Patrick and Audrey. Standing at the very beginning of the route, they'd be the first to see the floats, hear the bands, watch the entertainers and catch a glimpse of the VIP guest — a certain jolly man with a long, white beard. "Did you know that Santa Claus will have real reindeer pulling his sleigh this year?" Capella asked. "Who told you that?" Audrey replied with surprise. "I saw it in the Snow Island Gazette," the girl answered. "Since when do you read the newspaper?" Patrick responded, equally shocked. "Ever since I learned how to read, of course," Capella answered with a mischievous grin.

Suddenly, a familiar voice boomed over the loudspeakers. "Dear fellow citizens," Mayor Isla said. "Thank you for turning up in such large numbers to this year's parade, which is sure to be phenomenal. A big thank you to all our sponsors and volunteers, without whom this event would not be possible. "Now, without further ado, enjoy the show!" Over the next hour, the crowd applauded as dance troupes, musicians, acrobats, stilt walkers, puppeteers, jugglers, fire-eaters and beautifully decorated floats filled the street. The reports were true: the parade turned out to be incredible. However, everyone was still eagerly awaiting the arrival of Santa Claus.

Suddenly, out of nowhere, a volunteer appeared next to Orion and Capella, startling both of them. "Have you seen any reindeer go by?" the woman asked. "They ran away while our backs were turned." "No, but they can't be far. We'll help you find them," Capella replied, gesturing for her family to follow her. Known for his keen observation skills, Orion quickly spotted hoofprints among the boot and tire tracks in the snow. "Follow me," the boy declared. "I think the reindeer went this way, toward the candy store."

Orion was right. When the family arrived at the shop, they discovered the doors were wide open and four magnificent reindeer were feasting on gumdrops, caramels and licorice. "Quick, tie your scarf around their collar and we'll lead them back to the parade," Orion suggested. "Good idea, and we can lure them with candy," his sister added. Orion, Capella and their parents sprung into action, each grabbing a handful of candy and guiding one of the reindeer toward Main Street. When the volunteers saw them coming, they rushed over, grateful for the family's help.

And so, thanks to one kind and quick-thinking family, Santa Claus was able to make his well-awaited appearance at the parade, pulled by four full reindeer with a fondness for sweets.
