GRANT APPLICATIONS OPEN TO SUPPORT SAFER COMMUNITIES

Organizations throughout the province working toward building safer communities are invited to apply to the 2020-21 Civil Forfeiture Crime Prevention and Remediation grant program.

Details of the application submission process, including program guidelines and application forms, are available online: www2.gov.bc.ca/gov/content/safety/crime-prevention/community-crime-prevention/grants.

The application period closes on Nov. 25, 2020.

This year's funding streams are:

- Crime prevention;
- Indigenous healing;
- Restorative justice;
- Gender-based violence, violence against women, domestic violence and sexual assault; domestic violence prevention/intervention programming;
- Human trafficking, sexual exploitation and sex worker safety; and
- Child and youth advocacy centres.

The Civil Forfeiture Crime Prevention and Remediation grant program provides one-time funding to support community-based projects using the proceeds from the civil forfeiture process. The Civil Forfeiture Office works to remove the profits from unlawful activity by taking away the proceeds and assets used in crime, and reinvesting them in community safety and crime prevention.

Reaching the end of a job interview, the Human Resources Officer asks a young engineer fresh out of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, "And what starting salary are you looking for?" The engineer replies, "In the region of $125,000 a year, depending on the benefits package." The interviewer inquires, "Well, what would you say to a package of five weeks vacation, 14 paid holidays, full medical and dental, company matching retirement fund to 50% of salary, and a company car leased every two years, say, a red Corvette?" The engineer sits up straight and says, "Wow! Are you kidding?" The interviewer replies, "Yeah, but you started it."

Health For Your Home by Linda Franklin

Most of the diseases that plague our health are the result of over-indulgence in wrong choices; heart disease, hypertension, cancer, osteoporosis and diabetes to name a few. Temperance, as referring to health is: 1) moderate use of that which is good, 2) total abstinence from damaging substances, and 3) self-restraint. Even good things indulged to the extreme are harmful—more isn't always better. When it comes to damaging substances, none is best.

Scot Thomas, MD, Senior Medical Editor of American Addiction Centers says, "Alcohol consumption, though somewhat normalized, results in more than 3 million alcohol related deaths each year throughout the world. ...

This column is designed to address economical discoveries that will affect your health in a positive way.
THE FIFTH WEEK IN THE SERIES IS:

Temperance

so many argue that the only safe amount of alcohol to drink is none at all."

Most of us have a favourite indulgence, but be accountable to others who may see you going overboard to the possible damage of your health. For instance, if you know that dairy products accentuate the bronchial cough that keeps you (and consequently your family) awake at night, don't eat ice-cream. That's what we call self-restraint; a trait that, when practiced by each member of the family, will make your home a little happier.

Instead of "the John," I call my toilet "the Jim." That way it sounds better when I say I go to the Jim first thing every morning.

Cheryl Lynn (Hebner) Lawson

April 15, 1963-September 26, 2020

With profound sadness we announce the passing of Cheryl Lynn (Hebner) Lawson, our devoted & loving mother, sister and friend on September 26, 2020 at the age of 57.

After what felt to us like an eternity of her fighting for her life in Penticton hospital, her body was unable to continue. Although her organs were failing she passed pain-free and peacefully in her sleep with her family by her side.

Cheryl was well known for a contagious smile that always came from her heart. Always loving, fun and genuine, a true friend to anyone whose lives she touched.

She is survived by her children Garrett (Tricia) and Amanda, grand-daughter Ashlynn, adopted daughter Ashley (Matt), grand-children Julia and Kai, sisters Janice and Debra (Keith), nieces and nephews Justin, Stephanie (Cory) Samuel, Karyn (Jason) and Hehley, along with many other extended family and friends. Cheryl was pre-deceased by her younger brother Grant, and parents Norma and Laverne.

There was a lunch on October 17, 2020 at 12pm- 477 Heales Ave, Penticton, BC in memory and to celebrate the beautiful life, soul and joy Cheryl brought to all of our lives. She will be laid to rest in the spring of 2021 with her family in Grande Prairie, AB. Arrangements will be announced at a later date. Donations in memory of Cheryl can be made to the Canadian Liver Foundation, Arthritis Society or the Penticton Regional hospital, whose staff did all they could to help Cheryl fight.

PETS/LIVESTOCK

Oct 1 - Kittens ready for forever homes in 2 weeks. 4 males, 3 females. For more info and pictures, text or call 778-256-9777

There was an elderly couple who in their old age noticed that they were getting a lot more forgetful, so they decided to go to the doctor. The doctor told them that they should start writing things down so they don't forget. They went home and the old lady told her husband to get her a bowl of ice cream. "You might want to write it down," she said. The husband said, "No, I can remember that you want a bowl of ice cream." She then told her husband she wanted a bowl of ice cream with whipped cream. "Write it down," she told him, and again he said, "No, no, I can remember: you want a bowl of ice cream with whipped cream." Then the old lady said she wants a bowl of ice cream with whipped cream and a cherry on top. "Write it down," she told her husband and again he said, "No, I got it. You want a bowl of ice cream with whipped cream and a cherry on top." So he goes to get the ice cream and spends an unusually long time in the kitchen, over 30 minutes. He comes out to his wife and hands her a plate of eggs and bacon. The old wife stares at the plate for a moment, then looks at her husband and asks, "Where's the toast?"

HEY, YOU! YES, YOU!

WE WANT TO HEAR YOUR FUNNY STORIES!

Send your ridiculous, hilarious, I-can't-believe-that-actually-happened stories to advertising@coffeetalkexpress.com and we'll feature them right here!

This story submitted by Irene Stoyles, who is on an RV trip across Canada with her other half and trusty "RV Shoes." She documents her adventures using her Facebook, which is where the originals of these stories can be found.

Day one of isolationism. RV Shoes are settled in. They are not going to see a lot of action for the next 14 days. Laundry day. Had a hard time starting the dryer, it's wind and solar powered. OH (other half) put the clothes line up 3 times before we figured out that it was actually upside down. I have to admit that I did let him climb the tree twice before I reminded him we have a ladder. Darn clothes line didn't come with instructions, bet it was made outside Canada. I needed to push the wet clothes out and pull the dry in. Success. I have a feeling it's going to be a long 14 days. I did get a special delivery of homemade molasses cookies. Thanks, sister Alice. I spent quite a bit of time convincing OH that he's allergic to molasses and under no circumstances should he eat any of the cookies. In fact if he did eat then I would have to give him a shot. Now OH's fear of spiders is only surpassed by his fear of needles. My cookies are safe. I figure it will take him 2 or 3 days to wonder that if he has a life threatening allergy to molasses, why can he drink dark rum? I will have to fabricate an explanation. I'm leaning towards, "Don't rum give you a headache?" Definitely allergic to molasses. Stay tuned. Shovel is at the ready.

Catch more of Irene's adventures in our next issue!

To the members of Saulteau First Nations, West Moberly First Nations, and the local community of Chetwynd BC:

Over the course of the past decade, one of our biggest goals has been centred on elevating our Health Care platform for the members of our Nation. Currently, we employ a small staff of highly valued and highly skilled health care professionals who pour their heart and soul into providing quality care to our people. Through a wide variety of health care programs, we aim to enhance the overall wellness of our Nation and proudly strive to provide quality care to those in need.

Today we are proud to announce our Nation's most recent step of growth as Dr. Rafal Banas joins our health care team. We believe this collaboration will be most favourable as Dr. Banas' personal values surrounding quality care and his proven dedication to his clients align brilliantly with ours.

We recognize the struggles which the Northern Health Authority has faced regarding attracting and retaining quality physicians in Chetwynd and believe this is a wonderful opportunity to keep one of our beloved doctors working in the North. We graciously extend a warm welcome to Dr. Banas; furthermore, we extend this welcome to the community of Chetwynd as we invite you to continue utilizing him as your family physician at our facility.

Presently, we are working on finalizing our booking protocols and the appropriate infrastructure to ensure success of this venture. We hope to be open for booking appointments as early as November; however, we ask for your patience in this time and will release more information as it becomes available.

Once again, please join us in welcoming Dr. Rafal Banas to the Saulteau First Nation's Community!

A message from Dr. R. Banas MD, CCFP

Dear Community Members and My Dear Friends,

It has been five years since my arrival to Chetwynd and I will never forget the warm welcome and generosity I received from this town. I will forever be appreciative of this and it is one of the many reasons I enjoy working in this Northern Community so much; the hospitality and generosity in this town is magnificent and I am proud to be considered part of this community.

My role as a Physician is very rewarding and fulfills my passion to provide quality health care to my clients. That said, there have been ongoing challenges regarding the recruitment and retention of health care workers for our community by the Northern Health Authority, and these challenges have significant impacts on the community at large. Despite severe shortages of doctors and medical personnel, my contract for the work that I have done since 2015 has been terminated by the Northern Health Authority as of the 30th of September, 2020. Despite not having my contract renewed by Northern Health, I have no interest in leaving the community of Chetwynd; it has become my home.

I would like to continue pursuing my passion of providing quality health care to my clients and am excited to announce a collaboration that will allow this to be possible. Beginning in October, I will be practicing out of the Saulteau First Nation's Health Centre. I will be inviting my clients to continue to have me as their family physician if they so choose. I understand this will be a significant change and will be met with a few bumps until more details can be solidified and published; however, I want to ensure the community members of both Saulteau First Nations and Chetwynd that I am actively working on a plan to ensure your continuity of care.

Part of the continuity of care plan during this transitional time will depend on my working relationship with Northern Health. It is my intention to ask the NHA to allow me to see my patients in their Primary Care Clinic one or two days per week accepting their conditions and restrictions. I am hoping they will act in good faith and allow me to do so.

The other part of the continuity of care plan involves me working closely with SFN to define our booking protocols and put the infrastructure in place to provide quality care. In the next few weeks, we will use the help of social media and the local paper to communicate this information. This will involve how to book an appointment, how we will safely operate during this "COVID" era, and how we will address phone appointments vs. in office visits. I will also continue to look after my patients admitted to the hospital, long term care patients, and assisted living residents.

Going forward, if you are interested in me being your family doctor, I will request you to sign a consent form for your medical information release which will allow me to transfer your file to my electronic medical record system confidentially. This does not mean that you can no longer access the Chetwynd Primary Care Clinic (CPCC). You can still book with the Chetwynd Clinic. This is merely another option for receiving health care. My hope is that the NHA will bring more locum doctors to work not only in the emergency department but also in the CPCC.

This collaboration between myself and the Nation is met with tremendous excitement and a common goal on providing excellent and accessible health care to all. I ask for your patience in this transition and want to ensure clients that I will be following up on my open cases to ensure your health does not "fall through the cracks" as a result of this change.

Please stay tuned for more announcements to come.

Sincerely,

Dr. R. Banas MD, CCFP

THE SEMIOTICS OF A PICKET FENCE: READING LIFELINE

By Haley Bassett, October 16th 2020

For this article, I will draw on the principles of semiotics as well as my personal experience with Demmitt artist Peter von Tiesenhausen's artwork Lifeline. For a primer on semiotics, check out part one of this series.

Tiesenhausen's Lifeline is a continuing project that began in 1990. Each year since then, the artist has added an eight-foot section to a line of picket fence that is viewable from his studio window. The newest sections are pristine, while the earlier sections have been almost entirely reclaimed by nature. The result is a gradation of crisp white boards that slip further into decay as you travel down the line.

It's one of those works that can't be done justice in a photograph; it has to be experienced in person. It is a conceptual work that is less concerned about aesthetics than its signification. It may not fit some people's idea of art, but it is a powerful piece nonetheless.

Part of its power lies in its simplicity. It's a fence in a field that is slowly ravaged by time. However, the ritualistic act of adding a section each year—its placement incongruous in a nondescript field—as well as our subverted associations with a white picket fence, elevates Lifeline to a surreal object in a dreamlike space wherein the slow march of time can be visualized in sharp relief.

As I walked along its length, I felt the decades in waves, as if time itself could fold, crest and crash into a viewer with each step. It is a feeling that I remember well, over a year after I experienced it. Tiesenhausen wields the semiotic signifier of the fence effectively by understanding its baggage and leveraging it in this work. A white picket fence is indivisible from the false promise of suburbia, middle-class success, a nice home and a beautiful family—something we are all pressured to strive for. In building this fence, the artist acknowledges the futility of these pursuits, and the inconsequence of his mortality, as the tally of his lifespan slowly erodes before him.

Lifeline is much more than a fence in a field. It clearly exemplifies the uneasy overlap between art and object, durability and permanence. It lays bare the indifferent forces of time and nature, and the emptiness of material pursuits. It is a sober reminder that wherever we lead, death follows.

Stay tuned next week for my conversation with Tiesenhausen about the story behind Lifeline.

Do you have an artistic endeavour you would like to promote? Is there a topic you would like me to discuss? I would love to hear from you! Please email me at programs@dcartgallery.ca.

You wake up on a winter morning and pull up the shade, and what lay there the evening before is no longer there--the sodden gray yard, the dog droppings, the tire tracks in the frozen mud, the broken lawn chair you forgot to take in last fall. All this has disappeared overnight, and what you look out on is not the snow of Narnia but the snow of home, which is no less shimmering and white as it falls. The earth is covered with it, and it is falling still in silence so deep that you can hear its silence. It is snow to be shoveled, to make driving even worse than usual, snow to be joked about and cursed at, but unless the child in you is entirely dead, it is snow, too, that can make the heart beat faster when it catches you by surprise that way, before your defenses are up. It is snow that can awaken memories of things more wonderful than anything you ever knew or dreamed.
