New Business In Town

On November 13, The Chetwynd business community grew a little bit bigger. This weekend was the official Grand opening of the new Cannabis store the "Flower Shop", Owned By a wonderful lady named Tony Marcer. She is a long time resident from Hudson hope. Tony put a lot of time and effort to get the new shop, "it was a long process but worth it in the end" - Toni. She wanted to make sure that when she had her shop that her shop would be welcoming.

Mayor Courtoreille came to show his support and give recognition of the new business. During the opening, Mayor Courtoreille and Tony Marcer and conversations about what Tony's plans are for the future.

The Flower shop wants to make sure that their customers are taken care of by offering Online shopping, Curbside pick up and mail orders. They also offer a variety of Cannabis products as well as CBD products Tony and her helpful employees are welcoming, educated and willing to help you. The Flower Shop is located right in town, In the Chetwynd Centre, next to the BC liquor store.

As a new business in Chetwynd, they want to offer everything they can to improve are community in such a chaotic time for Chetwynd. We Encourage you to check out the new company and support our local businesses.

When a doctor doctors a doctor, does the doctor doing the doctoring doctor as the doctor being doctored wants to be doctored or does the doctor doing the doctoring doctor as he wants to doctor?

I loved the dress that I bought at a flea market. It fit perfectly, and the skirt was a swirl of intricate pleats. I wore it confidently to an evening party and glowed when a woman exclaimed, "Oh, how stunning!" Yes, I was grinning from ear to ear, until she added cheerfully, "Hang on to it, honey. Pleats will come back someday"

My mother was hard of hearing and wore a hearing aid that she removed at bedtime. My dad would wait till she had put it on her nightstand and say, "Do you want to go to sleep or what?"

Not being able to hear, she would inevitably respond with "What?" And that, my dad joked to me on numerous occasions, is the explanation for why I come from a very large family Knock, knock Who's there? Nun. Nun who? Nun of your business!

Some people try to turn back their odometers. Not me! My theory on aging is that I want people to know 'why' I look this way. I've traveled a long way and many of the roads weren't paved. First you forget names, then you forget faces. Then you forget to pull up your zipper. Being young is beautiful, but being old is comfortable. When you are dissatisfied and would like to go back to your youth, remember Algebra. One of the many things no one tells you about aging is that it is better than being young. You know you are getting old when everything either dries up or leaks.

Life should NOT be a journey to the grave with the intention of arriving safely in an attractive and well preserved body, but rather to skid in sideways, chocolate in one hand, martini in the other, body thoroughly used up, totally worn out and screaming "WOO HOO what a ride!"

Basic Table Etiquette RULES!

Here's the rundown on what children need to know:

1. As soon as you sit down, put your napkin in your lap.
2. Don't play with anything on the table – sweetener packages, salt, or pepper? Nope.
3. Never re-dip chips or vegetables into common bowls. It's called "double dipping," and – ew – it's really gross.
4. Please wait until everyone is served before you begin eating your meal.
5. Remember to use your best table manners – this includes elbows off the table, taking small bites of food and chewing with your mouth closed. Also, please chew and swallow before you talk. Nobody wants to see your food in your mouth while you eat. That's why our family has a "no see-food" policy. (Get it? SEEfood?)
6. If you drop something, leave it on the floor. Move it only if it is in the aisle. This includes utensils – simply ask the waiter nicely for another one!
8. Ask for food to be passed to you rather than reaching. You don't want to accidentally drag your sleeve – or hair! ew! – through someone else's plate.
9. Always pass the salt and pepper together. They're buddies like that. (And it keeps them from getting lost. Or crying.)
10. Don't take a dirty plate to the buffet line. Use a clean one for a second helping. Yum yum

Knock! Knock! Who's there? Scold.
Scold who? Scold outside, let me in

An elderly farmer in Florida had a large pond down by his fruit orchard. One evening he decided to go down to the pond and took a five gallon bucket to pick some fruit.

As he neared the pond, he heard female voices shouting and laughing with glee. As he came closer he saw a bunch of young women skinny-dipping in the pond. He made the women aware of his presence and they all went to the deep end. One of the women shouted to him, 'We're not coming out until you leave!'

The old man thought for a second and said, 'I didn't come down here to watch you ladies swim or to make you get out of the pond naked.'

Holding the bucket up he said, 'I'm here to feed the alligator!'

On our commute to work, my husband stopped at a convenience store for coffee. As he got back into the car, I noticed something odd. "Turn your head and look at me," I said. "You have a Q-tip sticking out of your ear." As he pulled it out, he replied, "No wonder the guy in there asked me if I was getting good reception

What I remember most about my dad's jokes is my mother's reaction. While everyone else was howling at one of his punch lines, my mom would always respond, "Bernard, no one thinks you're funny"

How to make the perfect snowman

Do you want to build a snowman? Here are a few tips for making one that'll be the envy of your neighbourhood.

PREPARING

Choose a flat and shady area so that your snowman will stand straight and won't melt in the sun. Make sure the snow is sticky enough by making a small ball in your hand. If it holds together and doesn't crumble between your fingers, you're good to go.

BUILDING

First, shape three balls with your hands until they become too big to hold. Then roll them in the snow until they're as big as you want them to be. Remember, the middle ball must be smaller than the bottom one, and the top one smaller than both of them. Flatten the top of each ball before placing another one on top. Finally, to keep everything together, pack snow around the base of the bottom ball and between each layer.

After, all that's left to do is decorate your creation.

The record for the tallest snowman was set in Austria in 2020. The sculpture was just over 38 metres tall.
