COMPASS CANNABIS CLINIC GIVES THE LOW DOWN ON MEDICAL MARIJUANA

This past Thursday, January 18th, in the Fay Asleson Room at the Library, the Chetwynd Chamber of Commerce invited Compass Cannabis Clinic's Marketing Director Krista Lusted, and new franchise Manager Matt Rivard, to educate those in attendance on the ins and outs of medical marijuana.

Compass Cannabis Clinic aims to connect patients looking for alternative medicine with doctors who will be able to prescribe prescriptions for different types of medical marijuana. These types can include, but are not limited to: strains, edibles, oils, and even topical products. Compass's mission is to empower educated decisions about alternative medicines.

Compass Cannabis Clinic works with licensed producers that are all certified by Health Canada with products that are safe, regulated and tested.

The process from consultation to receiving a prescription is as easy as 1, 2, 3. 1- Book a consultation with one of Compass's clinics or online consultation. 2- Register with a licensed producer. 3. Receive a prescription that can be filled discreetly and confidentially online. The product is then shipped discreetly to your post office box for pickup.

Matt Rivard, Dawson Creek Compass Franchise Manager, mentioned the very skewed opinions on medical marijuana and that they hope that with a little education, people will be able to make a more knowledgeable decision on their medicinal options. At their clinics, they have knowledgeable professionals who will be able to match you with a product that will suit your needs.

Statistics from "Stats Canada" show that only 6% of those using marijuana products are teenagers. 30% are between the ages of 20-24 and up to 66% of those who use this alternative medicine are over the age of 25. Of those numbers 35% of those are college graduates. These stats show us that it's not the teenagers that are using, which many seem to think. It's the middle class, well-educated folks that are actually using this form of medicine.

Why are people turning to this form of medicine? This is a completely natural form of medicine. It helps as an anti-inflammatory, assists with pain relief, insomnia, nausea and loss of appetite, which are many of the side effects people also suffer while going through chemotherapy, and has far less side effects than prescription medication. On top of the several benefits physically, it has also been known to help dramatically with mental stimulation in those who suffer from anxiety and depression.

When it comes to smoking (the most common form of marijuana usage), there are several things to take into account. There are 2 different types- Sativa and Indica, and both of these have thousands of different strains. Sativa typically provides a more invigorating, uplifting cerebral effect, whereas indica is more sedating, relaxing with a full body effect. Krista mentioned how many people are beginning to think of their weed the same way many think of a fine wine. They each have a different aroma, or “terpenes” and different effects.

Many don’t realize that there are forms that don’t even contain THC- meaning there is no “high” or psychoactive effects. These CBD products are usually in the form of edibles or oils.

Legalization of marijuana for medical and recreational use will take place within this year, and is expected to be on Canada Day 2018. Until then, Compass Cannabis Clinic will operate solely as a vehicle to get prescriptions. When it is officially legalized for recreational use as well, the clinic will then be flipped into dispensaries.

There are 9 confirmed locations, and another 13 in the works. In fact, for those here in the North, they are building a Compass Cannabis Clinic right now in Dawson Creek that is expected to be open by the end of February.

There are still a few kinks to work out, when it comes to travelling across borders with your prescription, and how exactly the clinics will be flipped to support the recreational use clients down the road. Compass Cannabis Clinic has been working with “Star Buds” out of Colorado, who have worked out several kinks over the last few years since legalization, and have over 100 million in sales. Working with Star Buds is helping Compass to take the necessary steps to protect the public- such as plans for vaults, surveillance and security.

Krista Lusted went over some statistics from the US since legalization, including the fact that it has taken approximately 90% of business away from the black market marijuana sales, and has put millions back into the taxpayers hands because of the federal taxation on the product.

Although many will always look at marijuana as “an illegal narcotic,” this will hopefully put a more well rounded opinion on the subject for those who were unaware of the many benefits. After all, “times are a changing” whether we like it or not, so let’s educate ourselves!

For those looking to discreetly and confidentially secure yourself a prescription with some of North America’s biggest licensed producers, including “Leafs by Snoop,” “Broken Coast” from Vancouver Island or “Tweed” based out of California, to name a few, contact Compass Cannabis Clinic online in a few weeks at the Dawson Creek Mall.

An Irish Blessing

May the road rise up to meet you,
May the wind be always at your back,
May the sun shine warm upon your face,
May the rain fall softly upon your fields,
And until we meet again...

May God hold you in the palm of His hand.
Amen
