ENCANA CORPORATION DONATES $300,000 TO NORTHERN LIGHTS COLLEGE

Northern Lights College (NLC) is pleased to announce a new $300,000 donation from Encana Corporation towards a new proposed trades training centre to be located on the Dawson Creek Campus, subject to all appropriate approvals.

At present Trades and Apprenticeships programming on the Dawson Creek Campus is delivered in several smaller buildings that were built circa 1950's. The College is proposing to build a trades training centre to create a consolidated learning space that will foster collaboration across program areas. The shared teaching-learning environment will improve access for students and allow for the delivery of current teaching methodologies, technologies and the installation of new equipment. Encana Corporation is a longtime supporter of NLC having donated over $3.9 million to the College.

"This strategic investment reflects the importance of skilled trades for our company and industry," says Jim Roberts, Encana's vice-president for Northern Operations. "The proposed new skilled trades training facility will play a crucial role in building local capacity in northeastern B.C. for these in-demand careers. We would also like to acknowledge our Cutbank Ridge Partner, Mitsubishi, and their commitment towards this sponsorship opportunity."

"This donation illustrates just how committed our valued industry partners like Encana Corporation are to the process of building strong futures in the North," said NLC president and CEO Dr. Bryn Kulmatycki. "It is because of donations like these that our Trades and Apprenticeships programs continue to produce highly trained workers that are among the best Canada has to offer."

"Our students are fortunate to have benefactors such as Encana Corporation," agreed Donna Kane, NLC Foundation executive director. "Achieving a post-secondary credential can be challenging if there are additional financial pressures—the generosity of our donors helps our students ensure their academic journeys progress smoothly."

The NLC Foundation awarded more than $500,000 to students in the 2014-15 academic year. To learn more about the NLC Foundation and upcoming awards, visit: <http://www.nlc.bc.ca/About-NLC/NLC-Foundation>.

COMMUNITY DOCTORS APPRECIATION DINNER

A most wonderful evening was held in Chetwynd on Wed. October 7th at the Chetwynd Recreation Centre to honour the local doctors for their dedication to provide health care services during the trying times of the last few years and the major changes that were taking place. A group of ladies met for the first time on September 29th and over the next nine days they planned, promoted and organized a fantastic dinner which included roast beef, turkey, ham, perogees and cabbage rolls to name a few of the menu entrees. The dinner was open to the public and was attended by 89 residents.

The committee captured the spirit of the community's feelings that the doctors were very important to the community and everyone wished to acknowledge and show their appreciation, to recognize all that they do on our behalf. As well, to recognize the struggles that a few doctors faced serving a population of 6,000 residents with limited resources; how they worked through the recent trying times of losing their colleagues to other communities, the closing of the old clinic, the move into the new, and the efforts to recruit more doctors and professionals.

The evening was kicked off with appetizers and background music by Ian Smith. The hall was decorated in a thanksgiving theme by Wendy Fontaine, Gloria Milsap, Donna Ony & Janet Lawson, followed by a dinner. Presentations, stories and accolades were made by community members including: MC for the evening, Betty Deck, reflecting on living in the community for the past 36 years and the changing health care environment. How her family found themselves living in a small, but growing village with an active Council, Chamber of Commerce, Downtown Merchants Association, and very soon two drugstores. Over time, two doctors became three, sometimes more, and at times less. How, over the years, the community lost a drugstore to retirement, but were always fortunate to maintain one. How this second drugstore was started by Don and Jean Hicks and recently they are again at its helm. She commented how fortunate we are to have one or more long-term doctors who have stuck with the community throughout the tough times. From doctors like: Dr. Ternent and Dr. Barkhuisen in the old days, to more recent times. Dr. Venter has been with us 17 yrs., Dr. Schreve Sr. 14 yrs & Dr. Schreve Jr., Dr. Dejager, and Dr. Vanderheide to name a few others. During the last several years, it has been especially trying times for everyone in and around the health care system. For that reason, people became aware of the pressures placed on our doctors and related colleagues. Many times, this was the topic of conversation around coffee tables and elsewhere.

All the clinic resource staff at the clinic and hospital health care workers received acknowledgements for the roles they play to support the doctor's effort to maintain a healthy functioning community. Penny Morton was also recognized for her contribution to the lab and X-ray department; she is the only remaining original staff member, from the day the hospital opened 43 years ago on October 5th 1972.

Marti Rainey, a long-time RN nurse at the Chetwynd Hospital shared her story of how she came to work in Chetwynd. She came into town and dropped into the Chetwynd Esso Station where the future Member of Parliament, Hon. Frank Oberle, then Mayor of Chetwynd was working on a car in the back of the station. She was told to go on back to talk to him, a no-no even in those days. She asked how she could speak with the new doctor that was coming to town to work in the clinic. She was advised that Dr. Lennox would be coming to town by plane tomorrow and why didn't she just go meet him when they arrived. She opted not to do that, but the next day she went to the clinic at the hotel where everything in the community was based out at that time. She met with Dr. Lennox and Mr. Diamond, Administrator for the new hospital that was currently under construction. Back then the job interview process was a whole lot more lax than it is today. She expressed her pleasure for the opportunity she had to work with so many doctors over the years and thanked the present doctors for all their service to the community.

Mercedes Moffat shared her personal notes of appreciation to Dr. Schreve and Dr. Venter for their professional care during her times of need and acknowledged that Dr. Schreve was still one of those doctors who would do house calls.

Marci Fofonoff commented that, "I think it is no small thing to be a doctor in a small town. The doctors, their partners and families, live constantly under the public eye as they are central to so many lives. I know there are times when things happen beyond our control and efforts, and the doctors I know have always stepped up to the plate to help us mend. I would also like to thank all the other people who play a tremendous role – the nurses, the LPN's and the support staff, and the other medical professionals who give a great deal of themselves in looking after people in times of illness, distress and sorrow, working so hard to contribute to recovery.

Lou Surerus, a long-time resident thanked the doctors for their commitment to serving the community.

He encouraged everyone to consider the burdens placed on the doctors and staff and, that everyone should consider carefully the best utilization of their services.

Dr. Venter thanked the group for the wonderful dinner and the kind gesture from the community. He shared a piece of advice given to him when he first started his career, that he should never stay in a community longer than seven years as he would overstay his welcome. He thanked the community for allowing him to do so and, for their understanding of the difficulties the doctors and all the resource staff face in delivering health care services with limited resources. He commented "that the community has been wonderful to us and have embedded themselves in our hearts."

Dr. Bond commented that the event was outstanding and how surprised he was when he heard of the plans to host the event and how remarkable it was that a community would go out of their way like this for the doctors. He stated his appreciation of the dinner, the wonderful evening and show of community support. He shared his observation that he had never heard of such an event happening elsewhere and had lived in many communities in his career and that it was unheard of for a community to host such a kind act. He thanked everyone for welcoming him to the community.

Dr. Banas shared his enthusiasm for the evening's events and extended his notes of appreciation as well. He also shared some of his personal desires to see obstetrics returned to the services provided at the hospital and looked forward to working with the community.

Dr. Schreve also commented on the wonderful evening and the opportunity to serve the community. He and Mrs. Schreve are retiring to their home down south; they expressed that they will return again in the future.

Larry Houley closed the evening's presentations with thanks to the Bakers' Dozen for the wonderful dinner. He, with assistance from Gloria Milsap, presented each of the doctors with gift baskets of locally-made products donated by: canning by Maggie Large and Amy Meyer, body scrub – Nicole Hooey, diamond willow toothpick holder – Neal Meyer, honey bee bath body – Julie Harroff and a cookbook – Betty Deck. Roses donated by With Love Designs were given to the ladies of the head table.

After the great stories and presentations concluded, the evening ended with a social gathering giving everyone an opportunity to visit and to offer their personal appreciation to each doctor.

This event has triggered a positive reaction within the community for everyone to work together to help establish a fully functioning health care environment in support of the ongoing efforts of other committees and organizations within the community. So many offers of help were immediately forthcoming with more volunteers joining the committee. Throughout the discussion and planning the ladies that organized the event identified other groups within the community who also deserve special recognition and have plans to pursue those ideas as well. It was acknowledged that everyone by their presence that night recognized the depth of the doctors' commitment and the ongoing work of all the community groups collectively who strive to provide a higher level of health care for the benefit of us all.
